

Mary Seacole Local Programme (MSLP)

for first time leaders

All workshops and the Meet and Greet session will be held virtually on MS Teams

The Mary Seacole programme is for first time leaders in health and care. It's for you if you are in a leadership role with responsibilities for people and services, and able to relate what you learn to your workplace.

Testimonials

I really enjoyed the whole programme. The teaching sessions were great, very interactive and the online resources were also helpful, I have certainly applied the concepts of the MS programme. I work in primary care now in a leadership role and I still reflect on some of the content of the course and apply it in my current role. The course gave me confidence to seek further opportunities for development and I am now training as an advanced clinical practitioner with Lincoln University. Also, I benefited from networking/learning/sharing feedback with others on the course who come from different backgrounds and specialities which was invaluable. I would highly recommend this course for aspiring leaders.

When I started Mary Seacole I felt so inadequate and totally out of my depth as a new manager, but being part of the programme has been most valuable. However, it wasn't a straight forward road, it has been a long and windy path. We have been able to spend time looking at ourselves, our systems, our strengths and our weaknesses and have been able to move forward with great success and with so much support. I feel that with all the skills and tools which I am now able to use, this makes me a better manager and leader.
